

Review – Welcome to the Sticks

Good – 27

- Thank goodness for a film that makes us smile. A lovely afternoon and hope we can do it again. Thank you to the organisers.
- David and I really enjoyed the film so a definite Good from us. Film was by turns, funny, insightful, heart warming and avoided Hollywood-style clichés. More of this sort of movie, please.
- What a fantastic afternoon. Luxury Hot Chocolate that I could take into the theatre, to sit on very comfortable seats, in a warm auditorium and watch a very funny film. Congratulations to Anne and Gillian, great venue, great film. I even liked the previews AND the luxury ice cream during the intermission.
- Thoroughly enjoyed both film and venue. Thanks all!
- We both thought it was brilliant.
- I thought the film was very good. It was extremely funny to see some similarities (if extreme) between views of northerners and southerners in the UK. Particularly as a southerner (Isle of Wight) who lived in the north (Manchester) for 11 years. I will recommend this to friends. I enjoyed visiting the Luxe Cinema for the first time and would want to go again.

- The film was brilliant, very funny and it was lovely to hear everyone else laughing out loud all the way through too. A different take on France, which opened our eyes to the 'divide', of which we were previously unaware, but it was treated in such a humorous way. We often go to the Luxe anyway, and it's one of our favourite cinema venues. Comfortable, good service, reasonable prices and very good sound quality, which is paramount. A very pleasant afternoon, thank you.
- The movie was daft but enjoyable. Let's have more foreign language films. The venue was good, the seats comfortable and the welcome very pleasant.
- Really enjoyed the film – very clever use of subtitles to convey the hilarity and confusion caused by the 'alien' pronunciation and dialect! Perhaps I shouldn't have been surprised that in a country as vast as France, such ignorance might, just might exist. As with all good comedy, the element of truth made it lol funny. And the afternoon out at the Luxe was a nice change on a winter Sunday. It's not far to go, and it's great to support them. Maybe the Hollywood in Fakenham next?
- Would be happy to return to Luxe.
- Although not new to the Luxe I thought it was a delightful excursion to Wisbech and the film was charming - to quote from elsewhere a 'pleasant Sunday afternoon'.
- I thought, bit of a one joke story. We both found it pretty funny, but I didn't think about it afterwards at all. Not surprisingly, very French. Our first time at the Luxe, which was much better than Good!
- Both thought it good. Very amusing film for a dull Sunday afternoon, but it also had a serious side about people's prejudices and the reality.
- Enjoyed location too.
- Thought the film was good and certainly a unique storyline though I find it amazing that the work is the best to come out of France! The first half was very funny and then I thought the second part descended into the farcical. Phillipe was excellent throughout. We enjoyed the Luxe experience ~ our first time there. Thanks go to the Club for arranging the event and especially to Anne and Gillian for all their email updates.
- Great to see another French film largely ignored in the U.K. Also really enjoyed The Luxe experience - seemed to really suit a Sunday afternoon and would definitely like to do it again!
- Altogether a very nice Sunday afternoon.. Thanks for organising it.
- An enjoyable lightweight feel good movie. However I suspect I would not have given it much time had it not been a foreign language film. Very much enjoyed seeing a slightly different view of French culture. The subtitling was brilliant, dealing very effectively with the intricacies of the dialect and the word play. A lovely Sunday afternoon. Thanks for organising it.
